INTERNET POLICY STATEMENT

internet policy statements which include its statements of compliance with these Guidelines, its privacy policy, and its customer charter;

InLife Benefits Insurance Company, Inc. ("InLife Benefits") believes strongly in protecting the transparency, accuracy and integrity of the information communicated through this microsite, including the one shared by Internet users who visit us and of those that become a customer through it. The bedrock of our business strategy is our ongoing commitment to be a Lifetime Partner to our customers and serve them at any time (for further information, visit our Customer Charter).

As part of InLife, we comply with the highest standards related to business integrity and security.

We are devoted to transparency based on a strict respect of professional ethics and compliance within all applicable laws and regulations and committed to protecting said information, especially from any kind of cyber threats. We work to earn and maintain trust through ongoing transparency into the actions we take to safeguard this microsite.

InLife Benefits is dedicated to complying with the requirements set by Regulatory and Supervisory Authorities. Specifically, we are committed to strictly observing all guidelines and directives released by the Insurance Commission. This includes its mandates on e-commerce, as per Circular Letter No. 2014-47 - Guidelines on Electronic Commerce of Insurance Products, and its amendments, and any other relevant regulations which may be issued in relation with the conduct of insurance business through electronic commerce and security for information technology.

In addition, InLife Benefits puts premium value to the privacy and security of the personal data entrusted to it. It aims to comply with the Data Privacy Act of 2012, its Implementing Rules and Regulations and the issuances of the National Privacy Commission. It regards its stakeholders' privacy with utmost importance (for further details, visit our Privacy Policy).

For that reason, we maintain strict security systems designed to prevent accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure of, or access to, shared information by anyone, including our staff. To this aim, we maintain organizational, physical, and technical measures.

If you would like to explore in detail our security measures, we encourage you to take a look at our "Internet insurance security arrangements and policy".

By maintaining our commitment to these principles, we at InLife Benefits will ensure that we respect the trust that you place in us.